PROGRAM NOTES

Con Brio (March) was commissioned by Con Brio Festivals for the 2012 Whistler Music Festival massed-band performance. The piece was premiered in the Telus Conference Centre in Whistler, British Columbia by over 1,800 musicians from the participating bands who attended the three-day event. In addition, this piece is dedicated by Con Brio Festivals to the pursuit of excellence in Music Education. Of particular interest, the melody used for the Trio of the march was drawn from "The Maple Leaf Forever," the traditional Canadian anthem composed in 1867 by Alexander Muir (1830–1906).

NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

The march may be taken at a suitable tempo of your choosing, but not slower than  $\text{♩} = 120 \text{ bpm}$ , and no faster than  $\text{♩} = 132 \text{ bpm}$ . The standard march form is utilized in the construction consisting of: four-measure introduction; first strain; second strain; modulation up a perfect fourth at the introduction to the trio; first statement of the trio; the break-up (or "dogfight") strain; followed by a piccolo obligato on the final statement of the melody from "The Maple Leaf Forever"; a repeat of the break-up strain ending with a strong final statement. There are several variations with regard to the articulation markings—some include additional stress marked by dynamic indicators. Staccato markings are not only short, but also light in nature. There are optional markings for a ritardando into a grandioso section beginning at measure 103, followed by a poco accel. to the a tempo at measure 111.

Additional options when using this in performance include:

1. Bring the piccolos down front, as would typically be done during the "Stars and Stripes Forever." I believe it's interesting since the use of "The Maple Leaf Forever" melodic material, the foundation of the trio, permits similar treatment.
2. Conduct the optional rallentando leading into measure 103, then play it grandioso (but not too slow!) and poco accellandro back to Tempo I by measure 111.
3. Use the "Maple Leaf Forever" section alone for parades, ceremonies, or other similar occasions.
  - a. Start at measure 99 and use those four measures as the introduction.
  - b. At measure 103, the first time, cut back to measure 59 (or measure 55 if you want a longer intro).
  - c. Play through the downbeat (beat 1) of measure 90, then substitute beat 2 of measure 102.
  - d. Play measure 103 to the end. If you want to repeat the last refrain, take the second beat of measure 102 in place of beat 2 of the final first ending.

Best wishes for a varied and musical performance reliving our traditional march history.
