PROGRAM NOTES

Recognizing his own music as “concert music with a pop quality,” Leroy Anderson (1908–1975) possessed not just skill in technique and a rich melodic gift, but also an engaging sense of humor that he demonstrated freely in his music and compositional style. He was particularly successful in creating descriptive pieces that effectively borrowed sounds and rhythms from beyond the traditional musical world, including the ticking of a clock, the clicking keys of a typewriter, and the ringing of sleigh bells. In the “encore” category of musical styles, Anderson’s works are frequently imitated yet have few equals.

Anderson first studied music as a child with his mother, who was a church organist. He earned a BA degree in music at Harvard University in 1929, and an MA degree in foreign language there the following year. As a student, he conducted the Harvard Band from 1928 to 1930. He became a music instructor at Radcliffe College from 1930 to 1932 and returned to Harvard as band conductor from 1932 to 1935. He was a captain in the U.S. Army Intelligence Corps during and after World War II. Professionally, he was a member of the Phi Beta Club. Later in his musical career, he served as a church choir director, an organist, and a conductor while continuing to compose and arrange.

At the height of his career in the mid-1930s, Leroy Anderson began arranging for Arthur Fiedler’s Boston Pops Orchestra. Later, Fiedler encouraged him to write his own tunes for the Pops. His compositions, more than 50 in number, served to virtually define the sound of the contemporary American pops orchestra. BLUE TANGO was a #1 hit in 1951, juxtaposing the charismatic melody over a traditional tango pulse and capturing the spirit of an era.

This new edition was originally arranged by the composer for concert band and has been freshly re-engraved with a full score for the first time, permitting a uniformity of articulation throughout the work.
