NOTE TO THE CONDUCTOR

The music of John Philip Sousa is some of the most popular in the world. For over a century, band musicians have had the joy of performing his tuneful marches. This arrangement strives to bring Sousa's best loved melodies within the grasp of young band musicians. Students start playing a musical instrument because it is fun, and they want to play songs that are tuneful. This arrangement for young bands has all of the fun and tunefulness of Sousa's greatest melodies. The piece has been reduced in its technical demands, but the magic of Sousa still shines through.

Throughout the arrangement, there are indications for many players to play second time only on a repeated section. Firstly, all of the repeats are optional. Secondly, I have indicated these orchestrational changes only as a guide for your performance. Sousa wrote his marches so that all instruments played all of the time, but he never performed them that way. He would often indicate with hand signals, during the performance, to thin out the orchestration. He never performed his marches the same way twice. Use your imagination and perform this march medley with a variety of textures and dynamics, to create a sensational musical effect. I hope you and your students enjoy this arrangement. Best wishes for a great performance.

Please note: Our band and orchestra music is now being collated by an automatic high-speed system. The enclosed parts are now sorted by page count, rather than score order. We hope this will not present any difficulty for you in distributing the parts. Thank you for your understanding.
